The State Department of Housing and Urban Development (SDHUD) has the vision to be a globally competitive organization facilitating development of sustainable housing and human settlements and urban development for the nation's citizens. The current administration has purposed as part of its legacy projects under the Big Four Pillars to provide low-cost affordable housing to hard working citizenry. Along with the mandate provided by the Executive Order No. 1/2016, SDHUD will focus on developing an enabling environment and implementing plans to deliver over 500,000 affordable housing units using sustainable methods and in line with the country's development objectives.

As part of this endeavor, SDHUD has assessed its major initiatives and is in the process of reprioritizing its plans and budgets to support the Big Four agenda. SDHUD has realized as a result that there is a need to re-align the initiatives being undertaken especially by the Urban Development and Metropolitan Development Departments to support the affordable housing pillar.
